THE CHRISTIAN ANNUAL

The first ANNUAL published by the Christians was edited and compiled by B. M. Stoddard in 1897. The title was THE CHRISTIANS ANNUAL. Of this publication the Herald of Gospel Liberty had this to say:

> "The Christians Annual, for the year 1897 is the successful beginning of a work that ought long since to have been done. The book contains a mass of information that makes it valuable to all interested in our own people, and it is indispensable to all workers."

The publication bears the imprint of The Christian Publishing Association with B. M. Stoddard as Agent for the years 1897, 1898, and 1899. For the year 1900 it bears the imprint of The Christian Publishing Association without naming any one as editor. The year 1901 was without issue, the Agent getting out an enlarged edition of the Herald which contained all the information, statistics, and references usually found in the ANNUAL. This year the Rev. W. D. Samuel was Agent for the Association. For the years 1902, 1903, and 1904, the imprint is that of The Christian Publishing Association, with J. N. Hess, Agent.

For the years 1905, 1906, 1907, 1908, 1909, 1910, and 1911, the publication bears the name of Rev. Henry Crampton as editor. That the publication has been well edited and developed to a high degree of literary character is well attested, and if the same high standard shall be maintained the present management shall be worthy of congratulations. For many years prior to the issuing of THE CHRISTIAN ANNUAL, the Christian Almanac and Year Book was published, and in many ways served the purpose for which it existed. It is honorably crowned in giving place to its worthy successor. In presenting this number I wish to acknowledge the prompt and efficient service of the Conference Secretaries, and take pleasure in saying that only a few were tardy in furnishing the reports of their conferences. It would be too much to expect that a work produced under such limitations of time and service should be entirely free from errors, both of omission and commission, but notwithstanding all its defects, it yet contains an amount of information concerning the Christians and their definite activities, which will prove a great advantage to all its readers. Very special care has been taken to have the names of ministers and their post-office addresses correct, which fact is also true of the names of churches and church clerks, in some instances writing to persons for the spelling of a single name.

But with all its errors and defects, its value and its virtue, it is given to the brotherhood with the hope that it may be a blessing to all its readers.

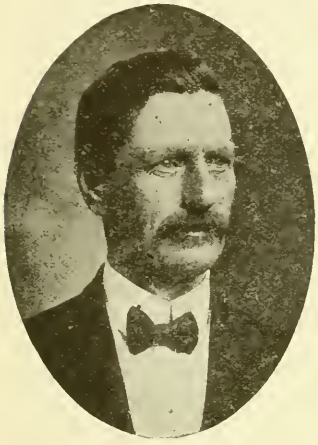
THE PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

Underrate or Overrate. Which?

By Rev. W. D. Samuel, D. D., President American Christian Convention

For a number of years I have been watching both sides of the above-named question and I have finally reached the conclusion that more harm comes from underrating than overrating. Of course one needs to avoid extremes on either side of this question. The unhappy extremes to which the attitude of self-depreciation may lead when it takes possession of the mind is very frequently illustrated in human life. We have known persons whose capabilities were sufficient to have made them a power for good, but who failed because they underrated themselves, and all effort failed to break the spell of their stupidity; and, as a result, they finished their course with little higher ideals than the ox at the manger. A man never rises above his thoughts. A man who thinks himself less than he is has few friends and fewer opportunities. The moment a man begins to underrate himself, he begins to lose ground. The less one thinks of himself, the less of his real power to do things will be put to use. A man may drift from little to less until he is incapacitated to accomplish anything of real value. I admit that there is a possibility of one overrating himself. I need not argue this point for we take it for granted. What I want to do in this article is to call attention to the danger of the other side of the question. By thinking that he is more than he is, a man will naturally demand more of himself, and the more a man demands of himself the more will he accomplish. Some one has said, "The reason why most men accomplish so little is because they do not attempt more." A great truth this. Victory is half won by thinking we can; failure is almost assured by thinking we cannot. Our real worth and real manhood grow out of our thoughts. Paul understood it when he said, "Whatsoever things are true, whatsoever things are lovely," etc., "think on these things." Let a man think he can accomplish but little and but little will he accomplish. Under the direction of God every man should strive for the highest things.



W. D. Samuel

DENOMINATIONAL UNDERRATING

Denominational underrating is dangerous. By thinking little thoughts a man will become a little man, and thus his ability to do things grows less. Having no high ideal as a denomination will cause us to grow smaller and smaller until after awhile our ability to do things will become extinct. Attempting little things year after year will finally paralyze effort. "The reason why most men do not accomplish more is because they do not attempt more." This rule may be applied to a church or a denomination. Undertake little things and we will always remain little. Attempt big things and even if to some extent we fail, we are the stronger for having tried. Cease struggling for big things and we will finally cease trying to do little things. We may as a church drift from little to less until we are incapacitated to do anything of real value to the world. "A man who thinks himself less than he is, has few friends and fewer opportunities." A church that thinks itself less than it is has few friends and fewer opportunities. I have attended great meetings of religious bodies and was amazed to see how some denominations pushed themselves to the front until recognition came. They were not content to be forgotten. You say, that's audacity. Maybe it is, but I had rather see the spirit of push to the front than the don't-care spirit that stays in the rear. A man drives up behind you with his auto. He blows his horn, which means one of three things: get out of the way, drive faster, or be run down. He is determined not to stay behind all the time. With other religious bodies we are in this fight for greater things. We must either go faster or be run down. For one I am tired of having dust thrown in my eyes. Our cause is as worthy as the best, and if every member of the church would do his or her best we could at least keep up with the procession. At the American Christian Convention at Troy last October, Dr. Joseph Clark, in his remarkable address on the Sunday-school question, said: "The Christian denomination should occupy first place." From every heart in that Convention came the echo, "That's the truth." But when he said we were not in the front ranks, some of my enthusiasm waned. Why this state of affairs? Simply this. We have underrated our ability to do great things and thus neglected to push our church to the front lines. Why haven't we more men as officers in the great Sunday-school movement? For the very reason that we are content with little things and thus fail to push our church to front ranks. It is not because our men are less capable than others. Our ranks have men who are as able as the ablest in the great Sunday-school movement. But while other denominations rally to those conventions we rally at home, and then wonder why we are not better known and better recognized. I repeat it lest ye forget: "It is because we underrate our ability to do great things." And people are taking us at our word. We never can expect to occupy the place that belongs to us until we break the spell of our stupidity and do things. We have been content with pebbles on the shore while below the surface there are valuable diamonds. But it is easier to pick pebbles. We must sacrifice for diamonds. Yes, it is easier to be ignorant. Scholarship costs. But I had rather be crucified at 33 having finished a good work, than live to 80 and die a blockhead. I had rather fail trying than to die a sluggard. I am just proud enough of my church that I want her to die game if she ever dies. But a church that does big things in a big world, solving big problems, never dies. It is the church that never breaks her old shell that dies. We should attempt great things for God. When I say "we," I mean as a church. We should fall in line with the great throbbing heart of religious progress. We MUST or die. Shall we be content to remain out of our place as a church? I mean in the front ranks? For one I answer, No. The old-fashioned way of reaping wheat was good enough in its day, but the new way is better. The reaphook was in the front rank in its day, but it is away behind the procession now. We should live up to our privileges.

Fishing with the hook and line was pretty good years ago, but is too slow

now. A few days ago in company with others I stood at Ocean View, near Norfolk, Va. I saw some men fishing the old way. Once in a while they would pull in a fish. But I saw other men to whom that was too slow. Their ambition for larger things made them discontented. I watched those men. Finally I saw that they knew their business. They looked out in the ocean and saw a "school" of fish coming. At once they seized their great net and pushed out and soon had the "school" surrounded. Then came the critical moment, every man to the net. At the command of the captain every man pulled every ounce he could pull and finally they landed them. Judges said three thousand. These men were rewarded with large things because they attempted large things. But the result could not have been attained had they not pulled together. They desired big things, pulled for large things, and received large things. A church may see an opportunity for large things, desire large things, inaugurate plans for large things, and fail to attain the desire because the membership will not pull together. A few disgruntled preachers with a few church members can block the wheels of church progress. A few knockers in a local church will prevent success. One booster is worth a thousand knockers. The only way to land success is all pulling together. A few people at the foot of the ladder cheered the fireman through scorching flame until he rescued the perishing woman from the burning building. There is more encouragement in cheer than cant.

THE QUADRENNIUM GOAL

At the last session of the American Christian Convention, October, 1910, the goal was raised higher. God gave to that great Convention a great vision, a vision that made every man present ashamed of any previous effort. The Convention was quick to discover the meaning of the vision. To those present it meant larger things for the Kingdom. They said the spell of former stupidity is broken and we must launch out. Wise men with discerning spirit set about making plans suited to carrying out the vision. The plans reported back to the Convention seemed good and were adopted. Delegates returned home enthused for better work. Some worked and are still working, but alas! to others the vision died away and God has withdrawn Himself. Our most sanguine hopes have not been realized all because the vision was lost to many. One year of the quadrennium is gone, vision gone, opportunity gone. Will the Father give us another vision? We trust Him, and almost hesitate to ask, for He may say: "I gave thee a great vision hour and you failed me." Oh, brother pastor, were you one who helped retard the plans for larger things? Are you satisfied for your church to remain in the rear ranks? I hope not. Did you know, my brother, that we are facing a crisis? That along many lines of church activities it is now or never? We dare not longer linger. The time to act is now. Will we attempt big things, pull for big things, and be a big people, or shall we be content with little things and be a little people? You who have failed to do your best to reach the quadrennium goal, can you afford it? Are you willing that our cause suffer for your negligence of duty? "Thinking little things makes little men." Doing little things selfishly makes us insignificant. Doing little things denominationally makes us insignificant. But you answer: "Are we not to do little things?" Yes, indeed! But it is a shame to be satisfied with doing little things when we can do large things. God will not bless us in doing small things if we have capacity for great things. Oh, the dust left by the procession that went by grates on my conscience. In many of the great problems now agitating the heart of the religious world, we are eating the dust. God help us. If we can not lead the procession let us keep in the ranks at least. Brother, have you been plodding along behind so long that your eyes are so full of dust that you no longer see the great throng that goes marching on with glad hosannas? God give us a new vision. "Where there is no vision the people perish." Do not underrate your denomination, hold her banner aloft. Let our cry be, "On to victory."

DEPARTMENT OF HOME MISSIONS

By Rev. O. W. Powers, D. D., Secretary

The field force of the Home Mission Department for the past year has consisted of thirty-one pastors and assistants operating in twenty-nine fields. The policy of the Board has been slowly, but steadily directed toward concentration of effort in the hope of bringing about more rapid and permanent results. This policy is beginning to bear fruit, and while not so large a number of new organizations can be reported and possibly not so great an ingathering in numbers as under a more diffusive policy, still the net results are more satisfactory. The reports of the workers during the year include 2,398 sermons preached, 5,157 services held, 10,422 calls made, 545 conversions and 624 members received. The churches in co-operation with the Board report an aggregate membership of 2,644, a Sunday-school enrollment of 3,692, 21 Christian Endeavor Societies with 640 members, 20 "Aid Societies" with 899 members, and 6 Missionary Societies with 83 members. These churches have raised for missions during the year $814.39, for Education and the American Christian Convention $168.80. They have paid for salaries $9,906.53, and have raised for all other purposes, including new buildings and property, $17,102.82. The property held by these churches amounts to $265,000.00, with an indebtedness of about $65,000.00. Church buildings have been completed at the following points: Olney, Ill.; Winchester, Va.; Walnut Hills, Dayton, Ohio. These are all fine buildings in important centers and are the necessary equipment for churches that will prove to be of immense importance in strengthening our work in their respective sections.

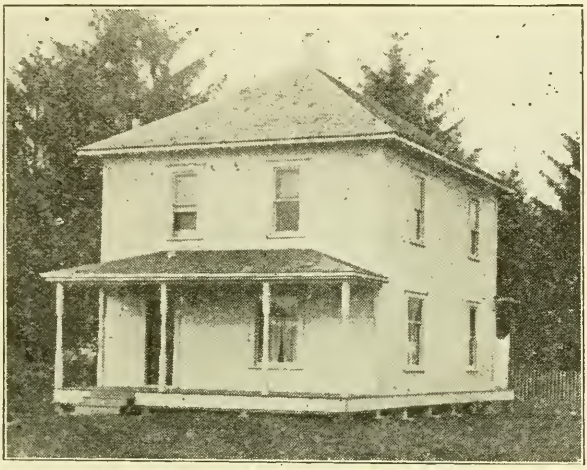
The general aim of the Home Mission Department has been stated in substance as follows:

To establish churches in centers of population, especially where these are also denominational centers for our people;

To organize churches and conferences in new communities, especially where our own people have made their homes and are in need of religious privileges;



Parsonage at Montesano, Wash.

To care for the weak and disabled churches;

To promote Christian work among immigrants and other needy classes;

To increase the effectiveness of conferences and churches by visitation, correspondence, circulation of literature, and development of plans for better organization, financial system, and church methods;

To promote Mission Study and the dissemination of missionary intelligence, and to create a sentiment favorable to all benevolent and missionary work.

In these efforts the Home Mission Department is expected to co-operate with the Department of Foreign Missions and the Woman's Boards, and with other departments of the American Christian Convention as opportunity offers. In the line of educational work a beginning of such co-operation has been made with the Christian Endeavor Department and with the newly organized Commission on Social Service.

A forward movement in frontier mission work has been begun by sending a missionary to western Washington, where we have had a small group of churches for many years. The work had languished for want of workers. Since the arrival of our missionary in May a new parsonage has been built at Montesano, Washington, a new church with forty members organized in a populous valley, and other churches have been encouraged by visitation of the missionary. The opportunity for greatly extending our work is exceedingly favorable, provided that we are able to send one or two more workers to the field in the near future.

Plans are also under way for a second forward movement in connection with the Wyoming educational colony of the Christians and the Mission Board hopes to utilize the band of workers already on the ground in developing the religious interests of that great state.

Direct work for immigrants has been maintained at Boston, Mass., among the Chinese and Syrians of that city. Efforts are being made to induce other churches to grapple with the problems at their doors, in rendering helpful service to these new people.

The financial resources of the Home Mission Department increase but slowly, the total receipts for the last year being a little over $9,500.00. However, this is the largest amount ever received in one year for home missionary work, except when Porto Rico was counted as a home mission field, and we are encouraged to believe that the present quadrenniuum will show a marked advance in home mission support and achievement.

Appropriations were made at the last session of the Mission Board for work at the following points: Winchester, Va.; Columbus, Ga.; South Norfolk, Va.; Portsmouth, Va.; Third Church, Norfolk, Va.; Chapel Hill, N. C.; Lamberts Point, Norfolk, Va.; Raleigh, N. C.; Lynn, Mass.; Manchester, N. H.; Bangor, Me.; Eastport, Me.; Toronto, Ont.; Coshocton, O.; Columbus, O.; Walnut Hills, Dayton, O.; Romeo, Mich.; Indianapolis, Ind.; Lebanon, Ind.; Olney, Ill.; Louisville, Ill.; Winterset, Iowa; Lake City, Iowa; Wyoming Conference; Washington Conference; New York Eastern Conference, and Boston, Mass.

OUR FOREIGN MISSIONS

By Rev. M. T. Morrill, D. D., Secretary

During the year ending September 30, 1911, we received for Foreign Missions $19,530.98, which is the largest sum ever received in one year for our foreign work. This large amount is due of course to the extra effort made during the Convention at Troy, in October, 1910, and continued effort to complete a fund of $10,000.00 to put our foreign work out of debt. The sum of $7,861.54 was realized in response to this appeal of the American Christian Convention, leaving $2,138.46 necessary to complete the fund. The Mission Board, in its annual session just closed, decided to ask the brotherhood for this remaining needful sum, after which emphasis will be put on the general enlargement voted by the Convention, viz., that the brotherhood aim to provide at least $25,000.00 for our foreign work this year.

Milo T. Morrill

Increased receipts have made our work much easier, and enabled us to overcome part of the deficit. The Foreign Mission Secretary stated before the Quadrennial Convention that not less than $24,000.00 would be needed to make up the deficit and start us off even October 1, 1911. It will be seen, therefore, that we could not cancel the whole of our debt. In view of the situation the Mission Board, when recently in session, made some readjustments of the foreign work to allow decreasing the cost without severely injuring the present standing of our missions. This readjustment contemplates wiping out the whole deficit by the end of the present quadrennium.

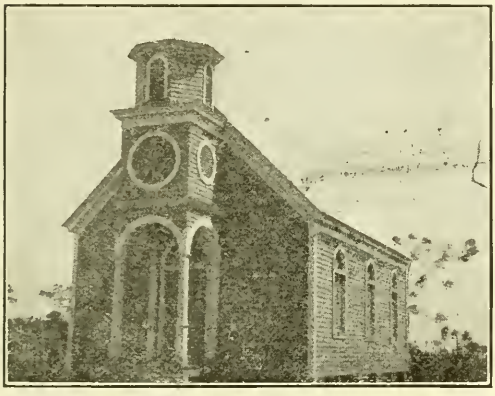
In Japan the work has made progress in spite of lack of adequate support and a newly awakened feeling against Christianity in that country. The total number of baptisms for the year just closed was 91, while it was 62 for the year previous. The total membership now stands at 880, while one year ago it was 781. Since a large proportion of members are students, the resident membership changes, and this year is 316, while last year it was 339. There are only 151 enquirers now reported, against 176 last year. The total amount of money raised this year is $673.72, a decrease of about $86.00. However, the Sunday-schools show an increase in enrollment of pupils, at present being 2,408, and one year ago 2,240.

Good reports have been received from Ishinomaki station and from the new preaching point opened in the city of Tokyo, where rapid progress is being made. This preaching point is in charge of Rev. Dr. K. Kawanaka, who has proved himself a very efficient worker in the Theological School and in evangelistic work.



Arms Chapel, Porto Rico

The Tokyo Theological School has a permanent faculty of three, with two prominent educators from other schools hired to teach special subjects. There are five regularly enrolled students. Expressions of satisfaction have been received from the Japanese brethren on account of the broadened curriculum and better training afforded. The Girls' School at Utsunomiya has 31 pupils and and 7 instructors. One class was graduated last June. Perhaps the greatest force of this school has been felt in evangelistic work, since the girls have practically maintained 8 Sunday-schools in Utsunomiya.

We should be devoutly thankful for whatever progress has been made by the Japan Mission, when we consider that the small appropriation has greatly hampered their movements. Dr. Woodworth started last September by way of the Holy Land for his field in Japan. Rev. and Mrs. E. C. Fry are entitled to furlough early this year, and may be expected home.

For maintenance of the mission during the year ending September 30, 1912, the appropriation will remain as the year before, viz., $10,000.00. After careful consideration the Mission Board decided to discontinue the Girls' School. It has become thoroughly evident that properly maintaining the school, to say nothing of erecting buildings and equiping them, is far beyond our present ability; and to avoid greater calamity it was decided that the school should stop January 1 if possible. Many people have become interested in this enterprise and have contributed toward it, and doubtless they will be disappointed by this action There are other objects of support which will be suggested in correspondence with all parties concerned.

From the Porto Rican field one missionary family has been absent during the year past, leaving that mission with utterly inadequate force. Rev. D. P. Barrett reports his work in good condition at Ponce, with a church membership at present of 82, 15 baptisms during the year, a Sunday-school enrollment of 205, and total contributions amounting to $144.64. At Arus, one of the out-stations, a cozy little chapel has been erected, chiefly with contributions from the Woman's Board of the Erie Christian Conference. A prosperous church has been gathered in that town with 26 members and a Sunday-school enrollment of 41. Money contributions have been $65.04 for the year.

At Santa Isabel there has been steady progress. The mission premises purchased a little more than a year ago have been the means of saving that point in our mission. Early last summer three rooms in the mission premises were fitted up for a dispensary at a considerable cost, $46.50 of which was contributed by people of the town. This contribution indicates plainly the changing attitude of the people. Miss Mishler writes a glowing report for her field. Church members, 11; Sunday-school pupils, 41; money contributed, $30.61. The organ given by the New York Eastern Conference cost only $55.00, and has been of great service already to the work. Two hundred persons have received medical treatment, and the dispensary is now self-supporting. A medical missionary gives his services in treating patients.

Brother Rafael Hernandez has had charge at Salinas, where Rev. and Mrs. W. C. McCloud have been residing and teaching school. The Board had planned to put the McClouds in charge of Salínas field; but plans have changed, and they have been released that they may continue in educational work. There have been five baptisms at Salinas, but the present membership of church and Sunday-school has not been reported. Total money contributed, $130.47.

Considering the missionary force and money placed at their disposal, the work in Porto Rico has done remarkably well. Two commissioned missionaries will be stationed there the coming year; the appropriation for the work will be $3,300.00; and an attempt will be made to actually construct the Ponce church, beginning at once.

In the Mission Rooms at Dayton a little has been done toward providing a better working equipment, including construction of two bookcases and addition of a $65.00 Royal Standard Typewriter. Fifteen leaflets and circulars, with a total issue of 111,200 copies, have been printed and circulated during the year. This is the largest amount of leaflet literature ever put out by us during one year. Our "Monthly Prayer Calendar" has been well received, and "Facts About our Missions" is being revised, and will be issued again this fall.

The Christian Missionary has been continued, with a slight increase in list of subscribers. Its receipts, including advertising and two or three other items, were $630.75. This is a decrease in receipts, due chiefly to the publisher's inability to make collections at the proper time, but partly to the effect of an extended effort to secure paid up advance subscriptions heretofore. The cost of publication, with some equipment, was $1,198.00, of which $896.20 was for printing, and $106.20 for illustrations. Half of this expense, or $599.00, is charged to foreign missions. We believe that the magazine is invaluable in our missionary work, although it is far from reaching our ideal.

During the year our Foreign Mission administration cost $1,798.29, which of course includes salary of Secretary, half salary of Treasurer, and all other items incident to running the foreign mission end of our work.

In addition to issuing the large amount of leaflet literature, and greatly increased routine work, the Secretary has been in the field much of the time visiting churches and conferences.

THE INCREASING DEMAND FOR HIGHER EDUCATION

A review of the work of the department for the past year affords evidences of attainment, but leaves much to be desired.

The demand for a higher education grows year by year. The gradualness of increasing desire in this direction is what one might expect would obtain, when conditions are properly co-ordinated. Remembering that only from one to two per cent. of the young men and women of the land enjoy the advantages afforded by the higher schools of learning, a total enrollment of over two thousand, over preceding years, in educational institutions of this sort, indicates decided advancement. Between six and seven hundred more degrees were granted by the educational institutions of degree conferring power, according to last reports, than during the preceding year.

W. G. Sargent

Two main forces are operative in producing these results:

1. The ever enlarging vision of life which rests back, more and more, upon cultural advantages, a tendency which must increase year by year; and

2. The ever enlarging demand for trained men and women in every sphere of endeavor. Business interests, which a few years since, if not inimical to college-bred men, at least looked upon them as questionable, are turning, with increasing desire, to those who have enjoyed such advantages. There can be no mistaking these certain evidences of national sentiment and endeavor. The result is shown in larger interest, on the part of parents for their children, and young people alike, in college training.

THE OPPORTUNITY OF THE CHURCH

To those who comprehend the situation herein lies one of the most potential factors in the progress of the kingdom. God is light and power, and wherever these manifest themselves God is seeking to make Himself known to men. His resources are infinite, and the history of the centuries has this lesson to teach us, that Christian progress and education go hand in hand. The church, where it has succeeded in its mission, has ever been the friend of education. Many, to-day, contend, and not without some show of reason, that this is the only feasible way of approaching the missionary problem with hope of large success: while, by all, education is acknowledged to be a most effective handmaid of missionary evangelistic effort. What then must be the attitude of the church to the larger program of educational endeavor?

THE CHRISTIAN COLLEGE

It cannot be said that the Protestant Church has been as faithful to its high responsibility in this work as it might or should have been. True, it has accomplished much—more, indeed, than it probably realizes. Of the first 119 colleges established in this country 104 were Christian, while of the 415 colleges in the United States in 1890, 316 belonged to Christian denominations. It is said there is not a college over fifty years old in the Mississippi Valley that does not owe its origin to the church. But the church has not maintained its hold upon these colleges. With better organized and more efficient state government state institutions have, in the natural order of events, arisen, and with practically unlimited financial aid have forged to the front, until, to-day, they minister to the educational needs of the mass of the student body. These institutions are avowedly centers of mental culture, not of spiritual growth. There seems to be good authority for the statement that religion is not a vital factor of their training. Indeed, it is a question if it can be with a religiously free country. Hence the demand for the Christian college, where character building and the inculcation of the principles of Christianity will not be secondary or a neglected quantity, but primary. Knowledge, without Christianity, is a dangerous weapon, but when wielded by the Christian becomes the most powerful weapon in the establishment of the Kingdom of God. It is this in part that makes imperative the effort of the Christian Church to found and maintain Christian colleges.

THE TRAINING OF THE MINISTRY

The demand for trained men in every department of modern life has made itself felt in the ministry. Time was when fervid evangelistic zeal was, by many, thought the all sufficient necessity to the successful accomplishment of the work of the ministry. The multiplied activities, incident upon the enlarged view of the mission of the church, makes such a position no longer tenable. It may be postulated that the church that insists upon adequate training for its candidates for the ministry is the church that will succeed in its mission, other things being equal. A recent census, taken by one of the larger denominations of the United States, of 1,075 of its ministers, in the west, showed that thirty-seven of them were without collegiate or theological training, while the state universities furnished only six and one-half per cent. of the others. The rest of them received their training in schools and colleges under denominational control. Doubtless this condition is duplicated in most, if not all of the churches, denominationally considered. It but throws into a clearer light, if possible, the educational obligation resting upon the church. It is safe to say that ninety per cent. of the ministry of the Christian Church, who have had training, have received it in colleges founded and supported by our church. Upon the quality of its leadership depends the future life of the church. It is suggestive to note in this respect that the attendance at the theological schools of the country increased from 1909-1910, the latest reports obtainable, at the time of writing, something over 200, and that the increase of those preparing themselves for the ministry and other definite Christian work in our own church from 1910-1911 is seven.

OUR INSTITUTIONS

Four of our colleges have changed their executive heads during the year, the retirement of each of these brethren being a distinct loss to our educational interests. President E. L. Moffitt, who had successfully served Elon College for a term of years, retired to enter business, as did Rev. O. B. Whitaker, former president of Union Christian College. Rev. Ercy C. Kerr resigned as president of Palmer College after having served the college some years, and has taken pastoral charge. President William Flammer resigned at Jireh, desiring to devote his time to field work in the interest of the college. Prof. William A. Harper, M. A., a man young in years, ripe in scholarship, boundless in enthusiasm, and loyal to the church, has assumed the presidency of Elon, and we may confidently look for a successful administration under his control. Dr. D. A. Long comes to Union with his rich educational experience garnered in the South. While Rev. E. A. Watkins, M. A., another one of our most promising young men, accepts the presidency of Palmer. Rev. Daniel B. Atkinson, M. A., a former member of the Educational Board, and closely identified with the founding of Jireh College, was elected to succeed retiring President Flammer. If the resignation of the four presidents constituted a distinct loss, the filling of these positions with such capable men gives large promise for the institutions over which they have been chosen heads.

Changes on the teaching staff have been effected in several of the colleges; in one, Palmer College, the entire personnel having been recast.

ADVANCE MOVES

Nearly all, if not all of our colleges, report increased attendance, in some cases a very considerable advance. Some, as Weaubleau, report a decided improvement in the quality of the student body.

In the matter of equipment considerable progress is reported. Palmer Institute-Starkey Seminary has refitted its plant quite extensively. Kansas has improved some of its class rooms. Palmer has, beside its gymnasium, built last year, spent $3,000 in improvements. Defiance has completed the president's home and the boys' dormitory, Sisson Hall, thus providing a splendid home for young men. Union has added to the efficiency of its lighting plant, and made other improvements. Jireh has expended approximately $3,000 in completing its building, adding to its library, and fitting up rooms for students. Elon has erected a new dormitory, and improved its heating and lighting plants.

Reports indicate that but three have increased their endowment, Defiance adding $8,000, Jireh $15,000, while the Ontario Conference has set apart $4,500, the proceeds of a legacy, for use at such times as it will be deemed advisable to erect buildings for a school there. Kansas has liquidated a debt of $1,000 on its property; and Elon is making great effort to remove the debt of $47,700, incurred by recent improvements. The joint action of the state conferences of Illinois and Indiana looks to the appointment of an agent, or agents, who will canvass these fields for funds to be spent in the interest of Union Christian College.

EDUCATIONAL OFFERING

The contribution of the churches for Education, while larger probably, than any previous year, has been in no wise commensurate with the need of the work, and the ability of the church to give. The amount received from and including November 24, 1910, at which time the account was transferred to the present secretary, to October 1, 1911, was $2,672.60. This includes the amount on hand, as transferred from the previous secretary's account, representing practically the offering after the issuance of the call of 1910. To this must be added the amount raised for individual colleges by Special Day offerings, and personal gifts, which do not pass through the department, and which may aggregate $3,000. It must be understood that the secretary is not here giving actual figures, which he has been unable to obtain, but is basing the estimate upon previous printed and verbal reports. The actual amount of free-will offering, exclusive of endowment and special funds, given by the denomination as a whole, would consequently be, on an estimate, between $5,000 and $6,000. This does not adequately represent the church. The amount of the Annual Offering, alone, should exceed $5,000, and to this end the department is bending its endeavor.

A REAL DIFFICULTY

One of the real difficulties facing the department, shared, doubtless, by other departments of our work, is a lack of concerted action on the part of the Board and the conferences. The majority of the conferences have no official or officials representing the department, and the department is obliged to depend upon appeal to the individual church without conference aid. An attempt to secure the co-operation of conference bodies in the appointment of educational secretaries, boards, or committees, with whom the department might confer, has met with meager success, the majority of the conferences appealed to having refused even the courtesy of a reply. The work will be continued next year with hope of a more generous response.

AGGRESSIVE AIMS OF THE DEPARTMENT

Four features are being emphasized in the work of the department:

1. A more thorough organization of the educational work of the denomination, with a secretary, or board, in every conference who will be in close touch with the Convention Board.

2. A campaign of publicity, disseminating more widely among our people knowledge of the work being done, needs and opening opportunities of our schools.

3. Lending assistance to the conferences, as far as possible, in raising the educational standards required for ordination to the ministry.

4. Effort to secure from every church in the denomination an annual offering for education and to aid in every possible way in increasing the endowment of our schools and colleges.

At the Convention held in Norfolk the Educational Secretary was requested to prepare a "Uniform Course of Study" to be used as a norm by the conferences wishing to set an educational standard for candidates for the ministry. The course as outlined was originally published in a pamphlet "The American Christian Convention Educational Institutions and Interests.". The course was formally adopted at the Convention in 1907, and conferences were recommended in fixing their standards for licentiate ordination, to accept, as nearly as local conditions would permit, the course suggested. Frequent inquiries on the part of both conference officials and individuals with respect to the course make it advisable that it should be appended here for reference.

The Sunday-school is the church in its teaching function. It is a work that should engage the entire church, and call to its service the best talent of the denomination. We should not only seek to make the local schools effective, but there should be a greater concert of action by the entire church for better organization, more agitation, broader education among our people for the promotion of this important branch of church work. We should have more information about the methods of work that are bringing things to pass in our most progressive schools for the improvement of the less progressive. The several branches of modern methods that have produced great results for good in other churches should be appropriated by our schools, and we should keep abreast with the progress of the age in which we live.

W. C. Wicker

I. Adult Bible Class Organization. This movement has done wonderful things for attendance, interest, and service among the adults of the churches where the system has been adopted. Large numbers that hitherto exercised little interest in Sunday-school work, have become enthusiastic workers and efficient leaders through this method. By wise planning, careful organization, and intelligent co-operation through the adult class movement much greater things can be done not only for our Sunday-schools, but also for the enlargement and development of every department of church work.

II. Teacher-Training. One of the greatest needs of the Sunday-school work in all churches is better equipped teachers. In the Southern Christian Convention, Preparing-the-Teacher, Vols. I and II., corresponding to The Standard Course adopted by the International Sunday-school Department, has been prepared, and has been highly commended, not only by our own people, but by competent critics of other churches. All our schools would do well to maintain a teacher-training class all the time preparing new recruits for our teaching force, and giving better preparation to those we already have in the service. Where classes cannot be conducted, present teachers should constantly study this course until they have prepared themselves for the highest possible efficiency.

MEN'S BARACA CLASS

D. C. Warner, (the cop) Teacher

III. Home Department. The Home Department is a feature of Sunday-school work that provides for those who cannot attend the session at the school, to study the lessons, and make regular contributions for the support of the school. It is a valuable method for systematic Bible study, and for the development of interest in the minds of those who cannot attend. Every school in the denomination would do well to investigate this method of Bible-study extension, and organize such a department wherever it can be done. The organization is simple and can be utilized in almost every school to good purpose.

IV. Cradle Roll Department. This department works well with the home department and provides for carrying the Sunday-school to children before they are of age to attend and to understand the work of the school. Many a child through this department may not only grow up in love with Bible study, but may be instrumental in leading parents to appreciate the opportunities afforded for their spiritual culture and education.

V. Statistics. It is important that all schools assist in collecting statistics in regard to our Sunday-school work. As Secretary of the Sunday-school Department of the American Christian Convention, I must earnestly request all schools in the Convention to respond to all calls for information, and, without call, to send all information, such as minutes of conventions, names and addresses of officers each year to my address so that I may be able to do more for the department than has been done hitherto.

VI. Finances. Some schools have responded nobly to the calls made for the financial support of this department. The other schools should aid in this work and help to give larger support so that more work may be done for the adoption of the most up-to-date methods in all our schools. The Secretary of the department gives his time without hope of fee or financial reward, but most earnestly desires to see better schools, larger results, more Bible study, a larger percentage of our people engaged in Sunday-school work, and greater good done through this department of the church that undertakes to perform the teaching function.

Herewith is printed a partial list of the Sunday-schools of the denomination, with the names and addresses of superintendents and secretaries. It would be greatly appreciated if the proper officers of the schools not herein reported would send such information to the Secretary of this department as early as possible.

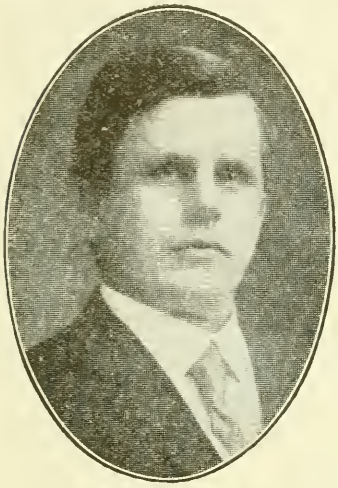
THE DEPARTMENT OF CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR

Rev. E. A. Watkins, Secretary

The one movement that has told for Christ and His Kingdom in a larger measure, possibly, than any other, had its beginning thirty years ago, when an anxious pastor in Welliston, Maine, conceived the idea of organizing his young people into some sort of an organization that would promote training for active service. Thus, Dr. Francis Clarke worked out the beginnings of what is known as "The Christian Endeavor Movement." This movement has assumed larger proportions, in the same length of time, than any similar religious organization of the twentieth century. Thirty years ago, we began with one lone society, to-day, we have 80,000 societies, representing nearly every nation in the world. Thirty years ago, we had only a few members, possibly twenty-five in the first society, to-day our membership will reach the 4,000,000 mark, one million new members having been added to our roll during the past two years.



E. A. Watkins

There has been just as marked a change in the life of the Church, as there has been a change in the attitude of the young people to the Church. The society has always stood for training, and it is the unanimous testimony of religious leaders everywhere, that it occupies a field unique and peculiar, and does not have any substitute in any of the various departments of the church life. Fred Smith said at the Atlantic City Convention, that "It stands absolutely alone as a training-school for young people." As a result of this new phase of religious activity, there has grown up in the Church, a great army of trained specialists, leaders, who are leading on to victory and conquest as never before.

A number of years ago the Christian Church had over 400 Christian Endeavor societies reported. To-day we have little more than 100. Why is this? The movement has gripped the other great denominations, why have we "lost out?" Certainly, it is not a "spent force," nor is it any less vital than formerly, but we have not kept pace with the onward movements of things. It is high time we were awakening to the tremendous possibilities in Christian Endeavor. We need to catch the vision. Others have seen it, and have profited thereby, they have not been "disobedient to the heavenly vision." Can we not do as well as our position would warrant? We ought to lead, instead of follow. I believe it is possible for us to make ourselves felt a great deal more than we have. What do you think, brethren?

THE DEPARTMENT OF FINANCE

Rev. John Blood, Secretary

There is very little for me to say to the readers of the Year Book. There has come into my hands the present year, two hundred and fifty dollars which, with the amount of six hundred and sixty-five dollars on hand at the Convention, makes nine hundred and fifteen dollars on hand as an Endowment Fund. Dear reader, we will never be able to take any prominent place in the world until we can control a larger amount of working capital than we have. In my judgment we should have enough endowment money at interest to pay the running expenses of our work, including the office of the Secretary of the American Christian Convention, and then the office would be free from the embarrassment of the Secretary having to raise much of his own salary which must be a source of unpleasantness to him many times, which experience he should not have. How many preachers would remain in the work if we had to do as our Brother Burnett has to do? For one, I am almost ashamed of the seeming indifference of our people to the importance of this officer of the American Christian Convention. I am saying all this of my own free will and accord. Brother Burnett may not thank me for it, but what I have said, I have said.

John Blood

The attention of our brotherhood should be directed in a very definite way toward the following named institutions:

FIRST—

Franklinton Christian College, Franklinton, N. C.—For particulars concerning the conditions and needs of this very worthy institution, write to the President of the Board of Control, Rev. John Blood, Riegelsville, N. J.

SECOND—

The Christian Orphanage, Elon College, N. C.—For information concerning this child of the Church and great blessing to mankind, address Rev. James L. Foster, Superintendent of the Orphanage, Elon College, N. C.

THIRD—

The Aged Ministers' Home, Lakemont, N. Y.—To know the needs and advantages of this "Retreat for the Weary." write to the President of the Board of Trustees, James S. Frost, Lakemont, N. Y.

A remittance for either of them may be sent direct to the ones named above, or to J. F. Burnett, Secretary American Christian Convention, Dayton, Ohio.

Are you thinking of what to do with your surplus money? Just think of either, or all of the above named institutions, and then act as becometh a worthy steward of your Lord's funds.

TO OUR BRETHREN EVERYWHERE

The Christian Publishing Association Sends Greetings

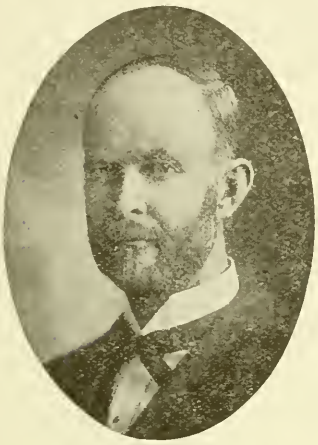
One of the most important fields is that of publishing. The printing press is the handmaiden, if not the forerunner of progress. It is the greatest agency of the age in diffusing knowledge among the people. It has been the right arm of freedom and of liberty. Where publications are not censored and the people know what is actually being done in the world, tyranny cannot long exist. Where there is freedom of the press the shackled and manacled hands of serfdom and slavery cannot long remain.

As the printing press has been the strong arm of civic liberty, so it has also been the right hand of religious liberty and thought.

The newspaper has been the greatest force of modern times in creating public sentiment and molding independent thought. It has been the foe of tyrants and oppressors of men. Not only has the newspaper been the expounder of republican ideas and civic equality, but the fathers of our church recognized it as a power vehicle to carry their ideas of religious liberty and democracy of religion to a world that was just beginning to throw off the papal yoke and episcopal chains.

It was in the beginning days that Elias Smith, one of our pioneer preachers, conceived the idea that a newspaper would be a strong factor in establishing and maintaining the advanced thought of religious liberty as advanced by the fathers of the Christian Church and expounded by them in the dawning days of the Nineteenth Century. He published the first religious newspaper, on Sept. 1, 1808, under the name of "The Herald of Gospel Liberty." Its name indicated the great purpose of the paper, to sound abroad the tidings of religious liberty and thought. It was as one crying in the wilderness, "make his paths straight."

It was the burning pine-knot that kindled the flames that have burned the thongs that have tied men's souls to forms and ceremonies and started the blaze that blistered and seared creeds. That fire has been burning up the dross of religious enmity and has brought into the crucible the pure gold of love and Christian fellowship. That paper, founded over a century ago, has survived the famines and vicissitudes of pioneer life, and lives to-day, strong and vigorous in early manhood, a true exponent of religious liberty and the pure gospel of Jesus Christ. It is our own denominational paper, published by The Christian Publishing Association of Dayton, Ohio, and edited by that spirit-filled man, Rev. J. Pressley Barrett, D. D. It is our own mouth-piece, it is our child, and we must support it not simply because it is our own, but because it is worthy of our support and because it will do us good. It is an almost indispensable helper in building up the Christian Church, and no member should do without it. Read it, and tell the good news to another, that he, too, may drink from this life-giving fountain of love and Christian fellowship.



O. W. Whitelock

When the old liberty bell in Independence Hall rang out that the Declaration of Independence was made and a republic was born, there came back the echo from the Blue Ridge of Virginia and the pine clad hills of the Carolinas. So, too, the message of liberty of conscience and individual interpretation of God's Word, as sent out from New England's rock-ribbed coast, struck a responsive chord in the southland and Daniel W. Kerr took up the refrain, and in 1844 established the Christian Sun, whose beams of love and fellowship shone upon our brethren, in the South. It has been made effulgent and life-giving by that prince of Christian gentlemen, the Rev. J. O. Atkinson, its editor. Its life-giving rays shine forth from that center of our educational life in the Southern Christian Convention, Elon Christian College, Elon College, North Carolina. The Sun is a sweet-spirited, literary gem, and if you would keep in touch with the onward march of our brethren in the South, take and read this paper.

Not to be outdone in spirit and good-will by the brethren of the South there comes a reciprocal note, of reciprocity, if you please, from our brethren in the snow-clad fields of Canada, and pushing to the front of our struggle for a place in the King's Dominion, the Christian Vanguard sends forth its bugle call of "to arms, to arms," for the Bible as our only creed and the Holy Spirit our guide. Its editor is that strong man of the Canadian church, Prof. John N. Dales, who stands as firm in the principles of our faith and as rock-ribbed as Gibraltar. Read this paper and witness the loyalty of our brethren of Canada.

These are the papers that represent our general church life and activities.

The Christian Missionary is our only publication given wholly to the great cause of missions. It is published at Dayton, Ohio, printed by The Christian Publishing Association, and edited by Revs. O. W. Powers and M. T. Morrill, our mission secretaries. It is the official missionary organ of the Christian Church. It is full of information and well-prepared articles that are calculated to create interest in the cause of missions and especially in our own mission fields. In this day of missionary sentiment and church expansion, every member of our church should take and read this magazine. It is our mission power-house and every member of our church should be connected up with it.

SUNDAY-SCHOOL AGE

This is the greatest Sunday-school age the church has ever known. At no time in church history has there been so much said and written upon the Sunday-school as now. Sunday-school helps of almost every character and kind are published to strengthen this great arm of the church.

The Christian Publishing Association through its Publishing House has tried to keep abreast of the times in this great field of activity. The Rev. S. Q. Helfenstein, D. D., is at the head of the Sunday-school literature department of our church and prepares all our literature except the Teachers and Officers Journal. We publish at our own Publishing House at Dayton, Ohio, Bible Class Quarterlies for the senior and adult Bible classes. These are equal to any other Sunday-school publications for class purposes. The pupil can get a comprehensive knowledge of the lesson if he carefully studies these quarterlies. Very few pupils will require more on the lesson than is to be found in this quarterly. Then there are the Intermediate and Junior grades. These are prepared with the same care as are the Bible Class Quarterlies, and are well adapted to these grades. For the lower grades we publish the Junior Herald and Little Teacher combined, and Our Scripture Picture Cards and Charts.

In addition to these helps on the International Uniform Sunday-school Lessons, The Christian Publishing Association handles the International Graded Sunday-school Lessons supplies. These are prepared by the syndicate, and are too voluminous and expressive to be prepared by our own Publishing House. Any schools using the graded supplies should order them from The Christian Publishing Association, Dayton, Ohio.

In addition to the supplies and helps named, our Publishing Association publishes the Sunday-School Herald for all grades in the Sunday-school, above the Juniors. All our Sunday-schools should take a liberal supply of these papers; they are of a high order from a religious and literary standpoint.

All our churches and schools should be loyal to our own Publishing House and order all supplies from The Christian Publishing Association. If the House does not publish the supplies ordered, the order will be promptly filled through the house furnishing them. We want to make this point strong and emphatic. ORDER ALL SUPPLIES THROUGH OUR OWN HOUSE. In that way all our schools will keep in touch with our own. It is only by the loyal support of our own church and Sunday-schools that our Publishing House can be made strong and helpful to every department of the church.

Our new Sunday-school publication is the Teachers and Officers Journal, published quarterly. The first number was issued for the third quarter, 1911. This journal is ably edited by Hermon Eldredge, of Erie, Pa., probably the best equipped and most practical Sunday-school man of our church. This journal is designed, as its name indicates, for teachers and Sunday-school officers. In order for our teachers and Sunday-school officers to know the most up-to-date thought and movements in the Sunday-school world, all our schools should supply them with this journal. It is not intended as an exhaustive treatise on the Sunday-school lessons, but to give the teacher additional helps to those found in the Bible Class Quarterly. I plead for this journal the united support of all our schools, that this publication may grow in usefulness and influence in our Sunday-schools.

We are proud of our church and Sunday-school literature, all our publications are strong exponents of our cause. All our people everywhere should subscribe for them, and read them more and more. If we love our church we will support it with all our influence and power, and use the means provided for inculcating our principles and heralding them abroad, so that those who know us not may have an opportunity of knowing us, for to know our principles is to appreciate and respect them.

In addition to our regular publications, The Christian Publishing Association publishes many books of great interest to our church. Among the recent publications are "The Centennial of Religious Journalism," issued in commemoration of the first century of the history of The Herald of Gospel Liberty, and gives a bird's-eye view of the work and progress of the Christian Church, also contains biographies of a number of our early leaders. "Children's Missionary Stories" was one of our 1911 book publications. It contains thirty stories pertaining especially and directly to missions, that were collected and compiled by Mrs. Alice Moreton Burnett, and is the only collection of missionary stories for use among children that we know of. It is especially helpful for teachers, leaders, parents, and children. "Writings and Addresses of Austin Craig," gives in his own language many of the writings and addresses of that great educator and preacher of the Christian Church, and is a very interesting and instructive volume. These books should be in the home of each minister and official of the church, and in the library of all our church workers. We can only know what our church has done, and is doing by reading our books and general publications. Do this and we will know ourselves better, and appreciate more and more that the principles of the Christian Church are daily coming to be the principles of all denominations, and are those upon which the Christian world will finally be united and the words of Jesus Christ will be fulfilled, that His Church shall be one.

Fraternally,

O. W. WHITELOCK,
Secretary of Publishing.

OUR FIFTY-YEAR WORTHIES

"But the path of the righteous is as the dawning light,
That shineth more and more unto the perfect day."

THE SONG OF THE VETERANS

By Rev. D. E. Millard

In the spring-time of life—we heard this command:
"Go work in My vineyard"—for truth firmly stand—
See! fields are now ripe, and the workers are few,
Go forth, with brave hearts—Christ is calling for you.

We shrank from the call, but we could not say, No!
For a Heavenly voice was bidding us, "Go"—
And preach "glad tidings" from the Bible, our choice,
While the Spirit gives utterance to heart and voice.

The word that we preached was "Repent and Believe,"
Take Christ for your Savior—salvation receive;
For your Creed take His Word—not unsanctified lore—
Love, Mercy, and Truth—and the Father adore!

These messages of truth were blest from above;
As we preached we oft felt the power of God's love;
Then sinners were turned from life's "slippery ways,"
To the path of the just—to the temple of praise.

Our heads are silvered o'er and our eyes are dim,
But we have lost naught of joy or praise for Him—
Who called us to work in His vineyard, when young,
And blesses us still with heart-gladness and song.

Earth's day will soon end and the time will soon come,
When we'll hear the glad message, "Come home! Come home!"
To dwell where pain and want shall enter never,
And the voice of sorrow will be hushed forever!

REV. MELISSA TERRILL

Brieelyn, Minn.

Central Iowa Conference. Rev. Mrs. Terrill, then Rev. Melissa Timmons, was ordained at the Ebenezer Church, Clark County, Ohio, March 7, 1867. Ordaining Committee: Elder Mark D. Briney, Elder E. W. Humphreys, Elder N. Dawson. The Deer Creek Conference met at Shiloh Church in September of the same year, when the following resolution was adopted:

"Resolved, That while we do not approve of the ordination of women to the Eldership of the church, as a general rule, yet as Sister Melissa Timmons has been set forward to that position at the request of the church of which she is now a member; therefore,

Resolved, That we send her credential letters of an ordained minister of good standing in this conference."

Rev. Naaman Dawson,
Presldent of conference.
Rev. B. F. Thomas,
Secretary.

Mrs. Terrill was the first woman ordained by the Christians, and the first in modern times to be ordained by any denomination by direct authority of a conference or local congregation. She was not the first woman ordained to the ministry, but the first as stated above to be ordained by the authority of a conference or local congregation.

It will be seen that Sister Terrill is not to be enrolled with the ministers who have been ordained fifty or more years (her ordination occurred only forty-four years ago) but because of the great distinction to which she is justly entitled, she is given a place among "Our Fifty-year Worthies." I think it should be made clear that she was a licentiate member of the Deer Creek Conference at the time of her ordination, but that the authority for her ordination came from the local church, the highest organized authority of the Christians. In a letter to the Secretary of the American Christian Convention she says: "I was ordained while a member of the Deer Creek Conference,"

The Gift of a Million

If the man who gives a million dollars to the Church is to be petted and praised, what should be said of the man who gives two sons to the gospel ministry? On this page are the pictures of Solomon King Zartmann, and his twin sons, who are now preaching Jesus Christ as the only hope of the world. We recall that Rev. C. H. Hainer, of Ontario, is the father of eight preachers, and that Rev. S. D. Bennett has two sons in the ministry of the church, and feel that their contribution to the cause of God is far greater than the gift of a million dollars.

Father

Solomon King Zartmann, the father, is a native of Ohio, and is now in the seventy-third year of his age. He is a devoted member of the Reformed Church, in which he served as deacon and elder for near twenty years. During his life-time he has run a farm, taught school, sold goods, served as Post Master, represented the Christian World, written insurance policies for the Metropolitan Insurance Company, and served in many other honorable avocations, the least of which is not the one which now engages his time and strength, viz.: conducting the elevator in The Christian Publishing Association Building, Dayton, Ohio. His strong personality, kindly treatment, and prompt attention, lifts what there may be insignificant about his duties, to the plane of dignified service for mankind. He is now on the retired pension roll of the Metropolitan Insurance Company, but is found every day at his post of duty on the perpendicular car where his ups and downs are many, but of which he never complains.

Parley

Rev. Parley Emmett Zartmann is a graduate of the Thornville, Ohio, High School, Heidelberg College and Seminary. He was ordained to the work of the gospel ministry in the Reformed Church, August 6, 1893. He has served the Reformed Church in Sioux City, Iowa, Three Rivers, Michigan, and the Bethel church, Philadelphia. He was secretary for the Y. M. C. A. at Sioux City, Iowa, during the years 1896 and 1897. He was Secretary and Treasurer of the Evangelistic Committee of the Presbyterian Church for nine years, and was associated with Rev. J. Wilbur Chapman in evangelistic and other lines of Christian service. He is at present Secretary of the Extension Department of the Moody Bible Institute, Chicago, Ill.

Pressley

Rev. Pressley Elmer Zartmann is a graduate of the Thornville, Ohio, High school. He came to Dayton in 1888, taking at the time a position with the Reformed Publishing Company, with which he remained seventeen years. In 1905 he was made superintendent of the Printing Department of The Christian Publishing Association, which position he holds at this date. He was licensed by the Miami Ohio Christian Conference, September 1, 1908, and ordained to the Eldership of the Church at Walnut Hills, Dayton, Ohio, by authority of the same conference, December 3, 1911. The following named persons constituted the ordaining committee: Rev. J. J. Summerbell, D. D., Rev. Hugh A. Smith, D. D., and Rev. H. J. Rhodes. Rev. Dr. Summerbell preached the sermon. Rev. Mr. Rhodes offered prayer, and Doctor Smith gave the charge to the candidate and also the hand of fellowship. Mr. Zartmann holds a diploma from the Musical Department of the Y. M. C. A. Educational Course. He had studied music and become quite proficient in it before taking the course above mentioned. As a musical director and soloist he possesses rare ability and his services are frequently in demand in the large gatherings of the city in which he lives. He has been pastor at Bethlehem, and Franklin, Ohio, and supplied at Muncie, Ind., and Springfield, Ohio, and is now pastor of the Sugar Creek and Walnut Hills churches, the latter having built and dedicated a splendid new house of worship within the last year. He is one of the few men who can do many things. He has had almost entire oversight of the mechanical part of the ANNUAL and but for his skill, painstaking and careful, steady, hand, the publication would not be nearly so correct or attractive.

THE CHRISTIAN ORPHANAGE

By Rev. James Foster, Superintendent

The Christian Orphanage was authorized by the Southern Christian Convention, in session at Burlington, N. C., 1896; and funds for the same were collected by the children and known as "The Band of Cousins" and used "The Children's Corner" of The Christian Sun, as their medium of communication. This work was continued from year to year till there was about $10,000.00 in the treasury. The Board of Trustees located the Orphanage on the south side of the railroad at Elon College, N. C., December 27, 1904. The Orphanage owns 114 acres of land, sixty-four of which are very well timbered with oak and pine. Most of the open land is poor, but capable of improvement, which is being done as fast as rotation of crops and home-made manure can be made from the barn. In 1905 the "Children's Building" was erected, a cut of which is herewith presented. The building is of brick and has a frontage of 116 feet, with five double bedrooms, and nine single rooms, office sitting-room, two large wards, chapel, dining room, kitchen, and double pantry. The land cost about $2,500.00. The present building cost about $9,000.00. The orphanage was opened for children, January first, 1907. From time to time children have been received, till at present there are forty-seven in the home. Five have been released. About twenty applications are now on file; we can take but few more till our income increases. We do not confine our work entirely to children of the Christian Church. The necessity and worthiness of the case governs the trustees in their acceptance or rejection of applications. The patronage is at large and not confined to North Carolina. The bedrooms are furnished with iron bed-steads, mattresses, springs, wash-stands, and dressers. Many splendid quilts have been sent from all parts of our church, and much clothing which, with little change has been very helpful to us. The farm has large barn with stables, for horse, stalls for cattle, with shelters for wagons, machinery, crib, granary, and smokehouse. We have eight milk cows, with young cattle which are used for beef: this year finds us with a fine lot of hogs, and we hope to kill enough meat to last twelve months. The farm is fairly well equipped with all kinds of implements. The boys work on the farm and good crops have been realized till this year, the crop being much cut off by the dry weather. The girls do housework of all kinds,—only one hired woman to look after and work in the kitchen. The boys and girls attend the district graded school; three are attending Elon College this year. They all attend the College Sunday-school and church services (about half of the entire Orphanage family being members of the college church).

The Orphanage is supported entirely by the free-will offerings coming from Maine to Texas, from Virginia to California, and Canada. We have $1,000.00 cash endowment; it carries six per cent. net interest. Considerable property has been willed to the Orphanage, but it has not come into possession yet. We appeal to friends for money of any amount, for gifts of any kind. We need a good sewing machine, a large kitchen range, kitchen sink, 100 gallon hot water tank, gasoline engine for deep well, with fixtures for large water tank (5,000 to 10,000 gallons). All these and many other things are needed now, for our family has grown faster than we calculated.

In Memory of Fallen Watchmen

Twice or more I requested through "The Herald of Gospel Liberty" that the deaths of ministers be reported to me. I used the following words:

> "'Some conference reports bear such names, but it will be better to have them sent in independent of the report. Has any one died in your conference whose name should be inserted in the Annual? Please send me such names. Send to-day. Do not wait until to-morrow, but send to-day."

But six names were sent me. I have searched the "Herald" files and altogether report the names of the following deceased ministers. There may be others, but I did not see the notice.

> "Weep not that their toil is over;
> Weep not that their race is run.
> God grant that we may rest as calmly
> When our work, like theirs, is done.
> Till then we will yield with gladness
> Our treasures to Him to keep,
> And rejoice in the sweet assurance:
> 'He giveth His loved ones sleep.'"

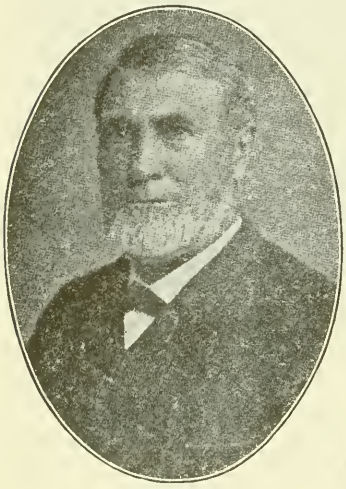
REV. ISAAC COE

Died January 17, 1911

He began his ministry in the year 1842. He took pastoral charge of the Bonny Street Christian church, New Bedford, Massachusetts, in 1856, and served it continuously until 1890, the date on which he resigned, completing full fifty years of active pastoral service.

He was a member of the Connecticut legislature during the year 1855, but did not discontinue his ministerial duties during his civil service. In 1865 he became attached as chaplain to the Fourth Massachusetts Heavy Artillery, by reason of which he was made a member of the R. A. Pierce Post, G. A. R. No. 190, and was at the time of his death the oldest member of that post. During 1866 and 1867 he was sent as a representative to the General Court, and during the years 1872 and 1873 he served as senator in the Massachusetts legislature.



Isaac Coe

He was the first probation officer to be connected with the Third District, being appointed by Mayor Clifford, three years later being reappointed under a new law by Judge Borden, and remained in said office until 1897.

He was President of the American Christian Convention for twelve years.

He was President of the Rhode Island Christian Benevolent Society for twelve years, and President of the Board of Trustees of the Christian Biblical Institute for twenty-eight years, during which time he missed but two meetings of the Board.

For four years he was President of the Westport Camp-meeting Association.

He was Chaplain of the House of Correction (Mass.) for more than thirty-one years, and served in the same capacity at the almshouse for ten years. He was a member of the school committee for eighteen years, and truant officer four years, and overseer of the poor for three years. He was prominent in Free Masonry, in which order he held high and responsible offices. He was for a period of years a member of the South Bristol Farmers' Club, and to it gave a full share of time and energy.

A leaf from his diary will indicate the measure of his activities:

Sunday—9:00 a. m., preached at the house of correction.
10:30 a. m., attended Sunday-school.
12:00 m., married a couple.
12:30 p. m., preached at the almshouse.

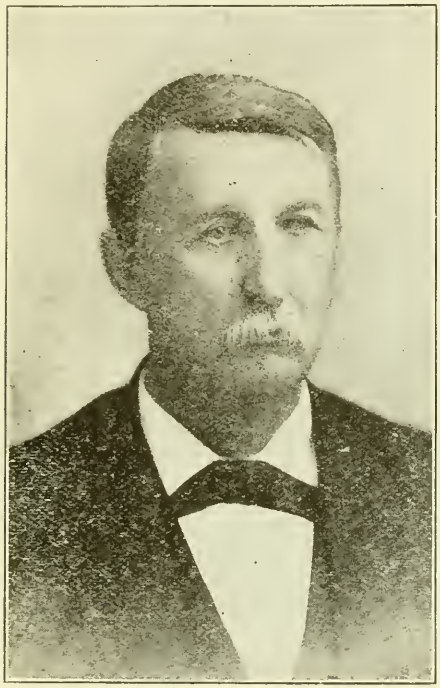
4:00 p. m., attended another funeral.
5:30 p. m., went to a temperance meeting.
7:00 p. m., immersed two converts.
7:30 p. m., conducted a prayer-meeting.

COL. ALEXANDER SAVAGE

Col. Savage, so well and long known to our brotherhood, especially in the South, was called from his earthly labors last April in the eightieth year of his age.

He was a native of eastern Virginia, where he spent the greater part of his life as one of the most useful and influential men of his day. He began life as a school-teacher; later he became a farmer, and then a soldier, serving as the Colonel of the 13th Virginia Regiment in the late Civil War. He seemed fearless in danger and was a skilful military leader. At the conclusion of the war he moved to Norfolk, Va., and went into business, becoming a very successful commission merchant. He continued in this business till old age made it necessary to retire. The business he established goes on under the care of his son-in-law, Mr. T. A. Jones.



Col. Savage

Col. Savage became a Christian early in life. His seems to have been a genuine conversion. From his own lips we were given the story of his change of heart—of his turning to the Lord. With him sin was a real burden, and his conversion was a real deliverance from it. It marked an epoch in life—and to that day he referred with pleasure. He joined the Christian Church in early life and became the staunch friend and supporter of the late Rev. William B. Wellons, D. D., as a leader in the work of the Christians in the South. Col. Savage was a financier and a fine business man, and as such, he commanded the confidence and respect of his brethren and the business community generally. When Dr. Wellons organized Berea Christian church in Nansemond County, Col. Savage at once became one of the pillars of that church. Years after, when he became a resident of the city of Norfolk, he entered heartily into the movement to build what is now known as the Memorial Christian Temple. In that enterprise he stood by Dr. C. J. Jones through the entire work.

In church circles his advice was eagerly sought, especially in matters of finance. He served the Eastern Virginia Christian Conference as its Treasurer for many years. When the Third Christian church of Norfolk was projected, though then aged and feeble, he loaned the money to make the beginning.

Col. Savage was one of the Commissioners from the Southern Christian Convention to the American Christian Convention at Marion, Ind., in 1890, when the union of the Christians North and South was effected. He was an ardent

The Aged Ministers' Home

Southerner, but he had a heart big enough to receive and welcome any true child of God from any quarter of the earth. He was very careful as to the conditions of union at Marion, but when the crisis was passed, no one was more delighted than he that we were once more ONE.

The life of Col. Savage was full of interesting incidents, which well written, would read almost like fiction. I may mention just one. Those who recall his appearance will remember that he had lost a limb in the Civil War. We heard him tell of how he lost it. He said, during his service in the war, it had been his invariable custom to begin each day by first committing himself to the Lord's keeping. One morning one of his men vexed him sorely, and in this confusion he lost sight of his usual season of prayer, and did not that morning commit himself to the Lord's keeping, and that day he was shot through the limb, just above the knee, necessitating the amputation of the leg. He did not claim that his failure to commit himself to the Lord in prayer that morning was the cause of the loss of his limb, but he was just as far from claiming that it had nothing to do with it. He thought, to say the least, it was very significant that the only day when he failed to commit himself to the Lord's keeping, was the day when he was maimed for life.

His Christian experience was very clear in the beginning, and while he never wavered in his loyalty to the Church of his choice in middle life, when crowded with large business interests, his peace of mind and heart was not so full as he desired. When freed for even a few hours from business cares, he delighted to talk with his pastor, long and seriously of the Christian life. On such occasions he seemed to feast on gospel truth. As he came near the end of the earthly life he became very hungry for the love of God in Christ, and before his death he was permitted to rejoice in the blessed hope of Eternal Life.

Dayton, Ohio. J. PRESSLEY BARRETT.

AGED MINISTERS' HOME

The Aged Christian Ministers' Home, located at Lakemont, N. Y., is in every sense of the word a delightful Christian home.

Beautiful for location, commanding a view of the opposite slope of Seneca Lake for many miles. While located in a small village it has all the quiet of a country place.

The broad veranda as shown in the picture is a comfort to the aged pilgrims during the hot summer days.

Steam heat in winter makes the interior of the house a place of comfort.

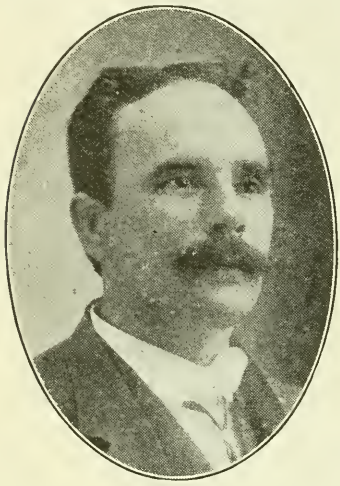
In addition to Rev. and Mrs. Alden Allen, the care-takers of the home, there are in the family at present: Rev. J. J. Hillman, of Lincoln, Kansas; Rev. and Mrs. E. C. B. Hallum, for many years missionaries to India, and Rev. Thomas Holmes, D. D., LL. D., of Chelsea, Mich. Dr. Holmes is the busiest man in the place, being almost constantly engaged in study and writing.

We are pleased to receive money nearly every quarter from the American Christian Convention Secretary for donations through that office for the support of the Home. The sums are not large, but they indicate that people are thinking of this worthy charity.

I have lately learned of a bequest to the Home from the widow of one of our aged ministers. Many such bequests could be used for the carrying on of the work. JAMES S. FROST, Treasurer.

CHURCHES

In this department will be found the names of the churches that have been organized since the Convention closed at Troy, October, 1910. Also the names of the church-houses dedicated or rededicated. And in addition to this information will be found a list of churches organized, meeting-houses built and dedicated during a period of years by the Rev. H. W Elder, of Georgia.



H. W. Elder

Rev. H. W. Elder, of Kite, Georgia, has organized, or had charge at the organization of the following named churches. In the Alabama Christian Conference: Union Grove, Forest Home, McGuires Chapel, and Christiana. He has built houses at these churches. In the Georgia and Alabama Christian Conference: Lanett, Riverview, LaGrange, Bulah, Oak Grove, Union Hill, Jackson, Brown Springs, Richland, Randalls Crossing, Enigma, North Highlands, Rose Hill (last two at Columbus, Georgia), and Manchester. He has built houses at all these places, but three. At Richmond, the house was blown down by a cyclone, and he built there again. He rebuilt Red Hill, and is now building at Kite, Georgia. He built a parsonage at Richland. He is at this date, December, 1911, building his eighteenth church and one parsonage. This work has been hard and has called for many sacrifices. He did a lot of this work with his own hands. He does all his painting, much of the carpenter work, and some of the brick work. His wife is a good financier, and holds things together at home while he is away building churches. He enjoys the work and wishes he could do more. He says:

"We have a fine field here for work; and thank God we are working some of it."

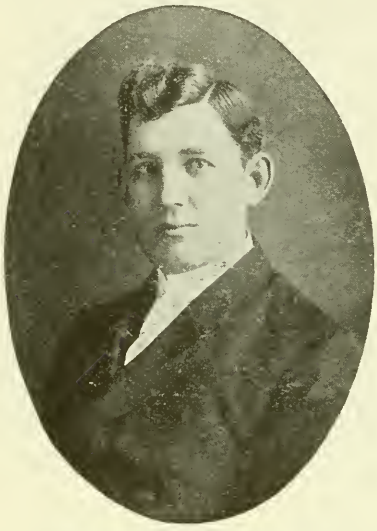
UNION OF CHRISTIAN CHURCHES, NEW BEDFORD, MASS., SUNDAY, OCTOBER 1, 1911

The union of the Christian churches of New Bedford, Massachusetts, came about without much previous planning and seemingly of its own accord. Two previous attempts had been made in recent years, one within the pastorate of Rev. C. J. Jones, D. D., the other while Rev. James McAllister, D. D., was pastor. At these times, the people felt such action to be highly desirable, but conditions which seemed beyond the power of any one to change made it impracticable.



Rev. F. H. Peters

Early the past summer, the joint boards of deacons held two informal meetings just to talk the matter over and learn whether there was a desire for the union strong enough to warrant an effort to bring it about. After the second informal meeting the three churches, in meetings in which every member had the opportunity to vote, endorsed the movement by practically unanimous vote. There was no opposition in either the North Christian or Spruce Street churches, while the few of the Middle Street members who at first opposed the union, with the exception of one family that united with another church, have since withdrawn their objections and become members of the united body.

The congregations had worshiped together through July and September, so that by October 1, the day the union became effective, the people were quite well acquainted, and partly used to the new relations. Thus far they have worked together in perfect harmony.

At first, the plan was to unite simply the two congregations, i. e., the North Christian and Middle Street, but after the movement became known, the Spruce Street people asked to be included, and later the few members of Bonney Street Society, twelve in number, asked to be included also. This was done, and these people are now members of the united society. If in the future it seems best to open Bonney Street for public services, it will have the active assistance of the united body.

Spruce Street has an active Sunday-school of about one hundred members, and a Christian Endeavor Society. It will be maintained as a branch organization with an evening service.

The union of our forces here into one vigorous plant has the hearty endorsement of the people of this community, and it is earnestly believed by those most vitally interested that it will give great impetus to the cause of the Christians in this city.

A new modern building will be erected as soon as conditions permit. With competent facilities our opportunities for the enlargement of our usefulness are all but boundless.

Johnson, Suffolk, Va., secretary; Western North Carolina Conference, Rev. J. W. Patton, Elon College, N. C., secretary; N. C. and Virginia Conference, W. P. Lawrence, Elon College, N. C., secretary; Eastern North Carolina Conference, Rev. W. C. Wicker, Elon College, N. C., secretary.

In accordance with the Convention recommendations, all the conferences have organized local Conference Missionary Associations. These associations have been officered in the manner of the Convention Association. By the plans thus inaugurated the funds for home missions will be greatly increased. As regards foreign missions, there is a steady growth of interest. A special call was made upon the conferences for missions at the late session of the Convention.

The report of the Committee on Schools and Colleges, made at Suffolk Va., shows Elon College to be highly successful and the endowment increased to $30,000. That the churches composing the Convention pay a fixed sum annually of $2,200 for Elon College. Thus the college is freed from embarrassment as to its future progress. In 1904, it was decided to build a new dormitory to cost about $20,000, with modern equipments. This building is now completed at a cost of about $40,000. It contains music rooms and art studio, in addition to accommodations for about one hundred young ladies. Prof. W. A. Harper, Elon College, N. C., is president of the college, and its financial affairs are entrusted to him. The president is now conducting a campaign raising an endowment of $50,000. Already ten men have given $1,000 each, and quite a number have given $500 each. $36,000 raised to date, December, 1911.

The Orphanage, projected by the Convention, is now opened, and is under the management of Rev. J. L. Foster, superintendent, Elon College, N. C. He is also the authorized financial agent. There are at present 47 children in the Orphanage.

The Christian Sun, purchased by the Southern Convention, is edited by Rev. J. O. Atkinson, D. D., who was re-elected.

Next session will meet Tuesday before the first Sunday in May, 1912. The selection of the place was left to the Executive Committee, which will also prepare the program and order of business.

ARKANSAS

Rev. Henry Crampton,
Lebanon, Ind.

Dear Brother:—The ministers of the Northwestern Arkansas Christian Conference have died and moved away until it would not be prudent to carry the conference on the roll of our next Annual.

However, you may put the names of Rev. S. S. Drake, Chester, Ark., and Rev. J. F. Baker, Gentry, Ark., in the Ministerial Directory.

You will see by the last Annual that I am transferred from the above conference to the Eastern New York Conference.

Hope you will succeed with this edition as well as with past editions, and and I assure you the brethren will have no room to grumble.

The Herald of Gospel Liberty and the Christian Annual are two essentials with your humble servant.

Yours truly,
M. P. Julian.

NEBRASKA

Rev. J. F. Burnett,
Dayton, Ohio.

My Dear Sir and Brother:—As we in Nebraska have had no conference here for several years and only a few ministers left and only one church house, I am at a loss as to how to answer your call for the Year Book. Elder Diltz, of Brownville got hurt, gave up preaching and is now postmaster at that place, and the Methodists got his flock. Dr. Kirk had a little church at York where he died, and it went to the Baptists. Cooper schoolhouse, presided over by Elders Cox and Kernard, went to the Methodists. Cox moved to Washington state; Kernard is dead. At the death of Elder Hugh Beardshear his little flock went to the Methodists. Greenleaf and Wayland were organized and presided over by Elder James Quinlin and after his death, Greenleaf went to the Methodists, but Wayland holds to the faith to this day.

The churches over which I presided were South Lincoln and Panama. Panama went to the Methodists and South Lincoln to the Evangelists. I took in so many Disciples that they finally took my house and members.

Very truly,
Elijah T. Flowers.

Christian Publishing Association,
Dayton, Ohio.

I have a letter from the secretary who is preparing the Christian Year Book asking for information concerning the Nebraska Christian Conference.

First: There is now only one church that I know of in Nebraska, that is the Wayland church. At one time we had a few country churches and held a conference.

Second: We have not held a conference for eight years. Our church has regular preaching and Sunday-school. Our pastor's name is Rev. F. V. S. Ford, of Des Moines, Ia. He began his pastorate yesterday, the 29th.

Wishing you success in your work of preparing the Annual,

I am, your brother,
J. E. Ingemon.

Children's Missionary Stories

STORIES are—yes, must be—used by every wide-awake worker among, or leader or teacher of, children.

MISSIONARY STORIES seem to have been the one field well-nigh overlooked until Mrs. Alice Moreton Burnett, Corresponding Secretary for the Woman's Board for Home Missions of the Christian Church, made a compilation of thirty interesting, instructive stories pertaining especially and directly to missions that are sure to be appreciated by workers, teachers, leaders, pastors, fathers, mothers—and the children.

Some of the Important Events of both Home Missions and Foreign Missions are also included, together with Suggestions For Junior Leaders.

They make a book 5 x 7 inches in size, 128 pages, red cloth binding—a handsome, attractive volume. Price 35c per copy postpaid.
